Monthly Llandysul Town Wi-Fi Report – October 2026

October 2026

October recorded the second-highest monthly visitor total of the year so far, with 8,069 recorded visits across the town Wi-Fi monitoring network—an average of approximately 260 per day. This is an encouraging indication of activity in Llandysul, demonstrating that the town continues to attract regular footfall into the autumn.

The network also detected 513 devices for the first time, compared with 438 in September—an increase of approximately 17%. Alongside the strong overall total, this suggests a healthy mix of regular activity and people newly detected by the network.

The busiest days were Friday 9 October, with 300 visitors detected, Friday 16 October with 299, and Friday 30 October with 296. The daily chart shows a recurring pattern of stronger weekday activity and quieter Sundays. Reported dwell-time averages remained broadly similar to September.

These figures count devices detected for at least five consecutive minutes. They provide a useful indication of footfall within the network's coverage area, although the monthly total includes repeat visits and should not be interpreted as 8,069 different people.

Overall, October's strong visitor total is a positive result for Llandysul, providing encouraging evidence of continued use of the town and its facilities.
